

Miss Del Bondio's many friends both along the Coast and in New Orleans, where she formerly resided will learn with more than ordinary concern of the accident which befell her. Miss Del Bondio is highly esteemed not only for her charming personality but for her public-spiritedness and civic zeal and her many benefactions to the needy, regardless of color or condition.

The hope is expressed that she will recover rapidly and with as little discomfort as possible.

ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORT FOR BIDWELL ADAM.

Bidwell Adam is prosecuting his campaign for re-election as lieutenant-governor on a high plane, and wherever he addresses the people he is accorded an enthusiastic reception. Four years ago when he announced his candidacy he was almost unknown outside the coast section; but today his name and the record he made as president of the senate is known to the people in every home throughout the length and breadth of Mississippi and his re-election is assured. South Mississippi is proud of her native son, and for two reasons is standing, and will stand, by him in its effort to gratify his every political aspiration: he possesses ability and character—the qualifications essential in a public servant.

WHY "A DIM REALIZATION?"

President Hoover journeyed to Marion, Ohio, last week to dedicate the Harding memorial, and in the course of his address he said President Harding "had a dim realization that he had been betrayed by a few of the men who he had trusted," having reference to Fall, Denby and others holding cabinet and high official positions in the Harding administration. At no time since the foundation of the government was there ever so much bribery, graft and corruption exposed than that which prevailed during President Harding's short occupancy of the White House. When he says Harding had no more than "a dim realization" of the existence of such rascality is an assertion that will not be accepted by a majority of the American people even at this late day.

BILBO AT OLD TRICKS AGAIN.

It is charged that Governor Bilbo, and the few lieutenants he has left to do his bidding, will leave no stone unturned to secure the election of senators and representatives who are known to be in sympathy with the Bilbo faction. The candidate whose election depends on the votes he may get as a factionist—either Bilboite or anti-Bilboite—is indeed "a weak sister." The Electorate of Mississippi are at last of one mind, and the next legislature will be made up of men whose every action will be prompted by a desire to serve the best interests of the State and her people. Too long have they suffered from the baneful and blighting effects of factionalism fostered by a lot of selfish and self-seeking political charlatons.

STATE'S BIGGEST DENT IN HISTORY.

State Auditor Carl C. White has issued a booklet showing that Mississippi faces the greatest deficit and largest bonded indebtedness in its history. A total deficit of $13,184,550.60 for the four years of Governor Bilbo's administration is shown and the State's outstanding bonded indebtedness to June 1, is shown to have been $31,731,500. Don't those figures show need for the election of a governor and a legislature composed of members of business ability, sound judgment and big enough to bend their combined energy to the gigantic task of rescuing our great commonwealth from threatened bankruptcy.

RECOGNIZED BY HONEST OBSERVERS.

Some thirty-odd mayors of American cities have returned from France where they were the guests of the French government. Among the number was Mayor James L. Key of Atlanta, Ga., who grievously offended his prohibition friends by declaring he "did not need to come to France to find out that in the United States prohibition was a failure." What's wrong about that, since it is a fact recognized by all honest observers, both wets and dries.

The several candidates for governor—with one exception—are lavish in their criticism of each other and before the first primary takes place it is going to require sheets of asbestos on which their kindly allusions to one another may be printed.

The half dozen or more speeches made by Governor Bilbo during the past week shed no light on the question as to who shared in the division of the unaccounted for $62,000 collected from that Boston lawyer. Theodore led the public to believe that he was going to give some inside history of the "shake down"—but he didn't.

Mississippians pay $2,000,915 to the federal government and $1,569,869 is returned to them in the shape of State aid, or 74.4 per cent of what they paid in. According to a report issued by the treasury only six other States—Wyoming, South Dakota, Idaho, New Mexico and Montana—receive a greater return than does Mississippi.

"Bad check artists" have been operating of late in several Mississippi communities, as was mentioned in the last issue, and have been passing worthless checks and cashing them at the banks. The banks are not to be blamed for this, as they are only doing what is expected of them.

SENATOR HARRISON OPPOSES TAX.

The movement on the part of the federal government to place a tax on automobiles and gas meets with quick and strong opposition from Senator Pat Harrison. He declares there is no reason why a war tax should be continued or imposed thirteen years after the war's end, adding that "instead of discussing increasing these taxes and levying additional nuisance taxes we ought to be conferring and considering a plan to eliminate them."

Senator Harrison, after expressing his opposition to the suggestion emanating from Republican leaders goes on to say:

"The gasoline tax imposed by the various states, as well as automobile license taxes, have been of immeasurable benefit in planning and prosecuting good roads construction throughout the country. It would have been impossible without this tax for many states to have cooperated with the federal government in obtaining good roads appropriations."

"Taxing gasoline and automobiles, however, ought to be exclusively the function of state governments and should not be invaded by the federal government. The automobile owners, as a rule, raise no opposition to imposition of a reasonable gasoline tax, but for the federal government to step in and impose an additional tax above that enacted by the states on gasoline and automobiles would not only in many cases be prohibitive to automobile ownership, but would greatly curtail the pleasures and conveniences incident to automobile travel."

WHY GIVE ADVANCE NOTICE?

The dockets of every federal court from one end of the country to the other is crowded with cases charging prohibition law violations, few of such cases being against the leading offenders—the "higher ups" who control the illicit traffic in liquor, and are backed by millions of dollars.

It is the pint and half-pint vendors of liquor who seem to be the victims of federal law enforcement officials and that explains why the court dockets are crowded with cases, but several district judges have announced that henceforth they will not consider any more pint and half-pint cases, that it is the purpose of the law to prosecute the "higher ups" first and then it will be time to look after the petty offenders.

From Washington comes word that Prohibition Director Woodcock has said that by the middle of July he would have his forces ready to take the field and make a clean up in the ranks of the main prohibition law violators, but in giving wide publicity to his intended drive against the "big shots" has he not lessened the chances of making his effort a success. We are inclined to think advance notice of the drive for enforcement of the law will put all the "big shots" on their guard and few of them will be caught in Woodcock's drag net.

A HAPPY DAY FOR MISSISSIPPI.

The efforts of Governor Bilbo to rekindle and keep alive the fires of factionalism do not meet with the success he hoped for. His reception at none of the points where he made addresses during the past week while respectful was decidedly cool, his audiences failing to applaud him as in days gone by. For many years his very appearance at any point in Mississippi was hailed as would be that of "a conquering hero," but he has lost his power to arouse enthusiasm among "the common people" of whom he has boasted on a thousand occasions that it was from their ranks that he sprung. To their sorrow—and to their cost—they have found out at last that at his door may be laid the blame for the condition in which their beloved State now finds itself. It will be a happy day for Mississippi when he leaves office, for whoever it may be that succeeds him will be powerless to do the harm which Theodore has inflicted on her and her people.

ABUSE OF PARDONING POWER.

A half-starved negro broke into a New Orleans home and proceeded to prepare himself a meal of bacon and eggs. While thus engaged he was arrested by a policeman, carried to court, was tried and convicted. The judge imposed a five to eight years sentence in the State penitentiary. Without money or influential friends that negro will in all probability serve out the maximum sentence, and yet there are life-time prisoners, bank bandits and dyed-in-the-wool criminals in the Louisiana penitentiary who are escaping every month from serving the sentences imposed on them by exercise of the pardoning power. However, it all becomes The Echo to criticize our neighboring State when the abuse of the pardoning power in Mississippi is a matter which "stinks to heaven."

AN APPRECIATED RECOGNITION.

The annual State convention of Lions Clubs, which was held in Hattiesburg last week, adopted a resolution highly complimentary to the newspapers of Mississippi. Among other things the resolution says that "the press of any section is recognized by all well informed citizens as one of the outstanding, most potential and effective influences in the growth of the section it serves, and in the growth and development of its worthwhile projects and institutions, and this is especially true of the weekly and daily press of the great State of Mississippi." Such kind commendation The Echo believes from the Lions organization will be appreciated by every one in any way associated with the newspapers of the State.

REV. SUTTON HAS FINE RECORD.

Rev. John H. Sutton of Jackson was re-elected president of National Children's Home and Welfare Association at the annual election of the association held a few days since in Minneapolis, Minn. Dr. Sutton has for a number of years been a prominent and successful member of the Mississippi Children's Home and has done much for the welfare of the children of the State.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

Chicago, Ill., June 25.—Back at his tasks in the office of the Hancock County Abstract Company is J. Perry Drake, according to the welcome news of local dispatches. Drake, giving day inquiries received when he was hit by a speeding auto, have prevented him from following his regular occupation. All his friends are glad to see him well again, and Mr. Drake will tell you that work is even so much more pleasant than enforced idleness.

For the sixth time, says last week's Echo, Brother Peter has been chosen to head St. Stanislaus College. For five years a steady procession of young men has passed under his training, its members going forth into the world to bring credit and honor to themselves, their parents, their Alma Mater and their native town. Well may the community rejoice as the Echo says it does over the news which told that this outstanding educator would remain at his present post for another year.

Rev. C. C. Clark continues active in his chosen work as pastor of the Main Street Methodist Church. To acquaint all of the times of services as well as to keep before the eyes of the people the names of those of his flock who assist him in his labors. The Echo announces that he will soon distribute a card directory on which will also appear the names of certain businessmen who have made possible the issuing of this valuable reference.

Rotary Clubs are voluntary organizations in which men of various vocations have united to dedicate their efforts to the service of their fellows. The account of last week's meeting was in itself the answer to the question, "What do you think of the Rotary?" And 'tis easy to imagine the satisfaction of the members of this useful organization as they listened to City Attorney Genin tell of the $66,000.00 worth of public improvements that have been made by the present city administration, without one cent coming from a bond issue. Mayor Traub and Commissioners Lader and Egloff seem to have applied the principles of Rotary to the administration of city affairs. State and national officials might do well to follow their example.

Now there's Judge J. A. Breath who, according to the news, took a trip to New Orleans last week. As he visited about the town he saw some things that were mighty fine. The business buildings and the pleasant residences, and perhaps a pretty park. But when he checked the advantages of Bay St. Louis against those which were before his eyes, he was glad. Glad that everybody in the country did not see things as he did. If they did, they'd all want to move to Bay St. Louis. And then the population would increase so rapidly that some of the good neighbors might be forced to move.

Some there are who will tell you that 1931 will see the finish of the depression. Others maintain that it will last for another year or two. And a few, seeing things through darker-colored glasses, prophecy that it will last for another decade and end in great disaster. But tell will not decide the course of the great movements of commerce. And if men can do anything to bring the depression to an end, it will be through quiet and determined action, not through talk. Last week's paper told of success at further beautifying Bay St. Louis being made by the owners of the lot south of the Hancock County Bank who have converted it into a little sea of flowered delight, a depression cannot effect hearty if the spirits of men remain strong.

And when the Rotarians noted by the Echo reporter gathered to listen to Dr. W. D. Powell deliver his address on the proper method of life, the expressions on the various faces differed widely. Some wore an enthusiastic smile, of approval, others calmly drank of the speakers words and registered nothing. Heads nodded in the affirmative; none shook in the negative. And if a census could have been taken, all present would have agreed that the speaker represented, with force, phases of a question to which all good citizens are giving much thought.

Wouldn't it have been funny if everyone at the ball game between Pineville and Lakeshore had been of the same opinion? All would have cheered the pitchers, both when they struck out a batter or gave a base on balls. There would have been a grand "huzzah" of approval whether a batter jammed a home run, or merely hit a foul, and every man, woman and child in the grandstand would have risen to unanimously cheer the final score of 15 to 4 in favor of Pineville. Why, even if it had rained pitchforks, or the proverbial cat and dog, and even if it had rained rain sticks, everyone present would have agreed that both the management and the team were right. Oh, it takes a difference of opinion to make a ball game the same as a poker game.

There's a lot of folks are clever, and a lot of folks are stupid, and a lot of folks are honest, and a lot of folks are dishonest.

DISTINGUISHED MEN.

Hon. Edgar S. Wilson, writing in the Mobile Register, makes reference to the several men of great distinction furnished Mississippi by Kemper county, and pays high tribute to their memory, among them being Gov. John J. Feltus, who was chief executive during the Civil War; Judge Thomas H. Woods, district attorney and later associate justice of the supreme court; and Judge James H. Neville, whose untimely death is still mourned by countless thousands of friends and admirers. Of him Mr. Wilson writes:

Judge James H. Neville, obtained eminence as a lawyer while a citizen of Kemper county. He possessed superior talents; his social qualities were superior; no man had more devoted friends than he. After removing from Kemper county, Judge Neville became the general counsel of the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad Company and his management of the legal department of that company was most excellent and creditable to his ability. His death at the time of life when his usefulness seemed greatest was mourned by thousands of Mississippians.

THE MORATORIUM.

President Hoover's suggestion for a suspension of payments for one year of all international debts, made last Saturday, has met with approval by all creditor nations—France excepted.

The economic depression which has prevailed throughout the world for many months, seems likely to rapidly disappear should President Hoover's offer be accepted by all on the terms as laid down by him.

Germany could no longer meet the heavy payments demanded of her, and to save that country from absolute financial ruin, prompted President Hoover's suggestion to suspend collection of debts for one year. It was a wise move on his part, but he cannot be given a lion's share of credit, as he was advised to make the offer by both Republican and Democratic leaders and the heads of great financial institutions of our own country.

There is no doubt that the congress will, as it must, ratify the steps taken by President in a matter of so grave importance to the whole world.

THE MERCHANT'S BEST ASSET.

The best assistant any merchant can use today to sell merchandise is well written and well gotten up advertising.

Advertising sells merchandise for the reason that it creates a desire for the article advertised—a desire, but for the advertising would not be awakened, and no matter how desirable the merchandise might be it would lay unsold on the merchant's shelves.

Advertising has become an inseparable part of modern merchandising. Very little merchandise is sold these days that is not advertised. Advertising cuts down sales resistance, creates confidence and gives the customer the information that he wants about the store's merchandise.

More and more readers of newspapers and magazines are depending on the printed advertisement for their information regarding the store and the merchandise it has to sell. A good, well written advertisement is an invitation to customers from a merchant, to come into his store and see the merchandise displayed there.

Restless, could not sleep

"THERE were days when I felt like I could not get my work done. I would get so nervous and 'trembly' I would have to lie down. I was very restless, and could not sleep at night."

My mother advised me to take Cardui, and I certainly am glad she did. It is the first thing that seemed to give me any strength. I felt better after the first bottle. I kept it up and am now feeling fine."—Mrs. E. Gibson, Fox River, Ill.

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

CLOSE IN NATIONAL ARMOUR AT INVERNESS

THE BIG FIGHT TROJANS WIN AGAIN TWO-TEAM RACE

INDIVIDUAL LEADERS WASHINGTON GOING STRONG.

It is sometimes a good idea to see how the teams are playing. Taking the first 18 days of June, we find that the only other team in the American league to win more than half of its games was the Boston Red Sox, with 6 won and 5 lost. New York got 5 out of 11, Cleveland 6 out of 11.

Let's give the Washington Senators a hand this week. Faced with the threatened run-away of the Athletics, what did they do? Well, in the first 18 days of June they proceeded to win 15 out of 16 games while the Philadelphia's took only 12 out of 15. Imagine Philadelphia's plight, winning four out of five games on a stretch and losing two and a half games in standing!

Over in the National league five teams managed to get more than half of their contests in the right column. The Cardinals, league leaders, gained in standing by taking 12 out of 17, Chicago 10 out of 17, Cincinnati 9 out of 16, New York 9 out of 15, Boston 8 out of 16 and then you come to the losers, Brooklyn with 4 out of 16, Pittsburgh with 4 out of 16, and Philadelphia with only 3 out of 14.

Eddie Morgan, Cleveland first baseman, who couldn't decide to play ball until the season opened, took the batting lead last week. Bill Terry, Giant star, headed the National column. The firm of Grove and Earnshaw last week boasted 11 victories and 2 defeats, each, which is what most managers would call a burling Washington shows two likely winners, Washington's Fischer and Burke, with 7 and 6 victories to a lone defeat for each. Chuck Klein, only player to make 200 bases in two years in succession, if off to a good start for his third year.

Tommy Armour is back from England where he won the British Open. With his eye set on the National Open at Inverness, which will begin at Toledo on July 22, Armstrong, fielding certain, even with Bobby Jones on the sidelines. The British Ryder cup team and a quartet from the Argentine will participate. However, there were a few upsets in the sectional qualifying rounds. Cyril Walker and Willie McFarlane lost out. Harrison Johnson, Roland Mackenzie and Bobby Jones, who had been in the British open, and T. Philip Perkins, British amateur, will be in at the start.

The Cleveland Boxing Commission will place the Stribling-Schelling fight in the hands of the referees, with two judges having nothing to do but ballot on the decision. No foul rules will be established, and a boxing match will be examined, and if injured too bad to continue, it will be ruled a "no fight." If after a rest, physicians say he can continue and the boxer refuses, the award of a technical knockout will go to the adversary.

When it comes to a track meet you might as well award the laurels to the Trojans of the University of California. They recently won the National Collegiate track and field championship, amassing a record-breaking total of 77 1-7 points against the 31 1-7 points of their nearest rival, Ohio State. Illinois was third with 28, Iowa fourth with 26 1-7 and Indiana fifth with 26. The Trojans, who won the championship last year, also won in 11 of the 15 events and four championships and tied for another.

WAVELAND SENTINELS OPENED SECOND HALF WITH 10-3 VICTORY

Waveland Sentinels opened the second half of the Gulf Coast Baseball League with a 10-3 victory over the Gulfport Tarpons at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon. The Sentinels played wonderful ball being the superb pitching of "Bob" London their speed ball artist, who struck out thirteen men. They showed three Tarnon pitchers with sixteen hits, several for extra bases.

"Slick" Ball newly acquired outfielder made his debut for Waveland by securing three safeties out of five trips to the plate. Fred Bourgeois also secured three singles out of five trips up. "Mule" Hays first baseman led the long distance slugging with a double and a triple.

The Waveland Sentinels open their home schedule for the second half with the Tarpons at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon. The Sentinels have made several changes in their lineup and seem to have gathered a winning combination now. A large crowd of fans are expected to attend the opening game for the home team. The game will be called at 2 P. M.

RAMBLERS DEFEAT BINGHAM IN BEST GAME OF SEASON

Heavy Hitting Feature of Game. A. Smith Started On Mound for Ramblers.

With a perfect infield and outfield and playing errorless ball, the Bay Ramblers won the "Championship" game with the Bingham Bears. A. Smith who started on the mound for the Ramblers was pitched for seven hits in six innings while C. Higgins who relieved Smith was pitched for three hits in the eighth inning. Last Sunday the Logtown Wildcats went down for their first defeat in many starts to the Bay Ramblers, score being 5-4 and this Sunday they both clashed for the championship game.

Score by innings: Logtown Wild Cats 001 030 000-4 Bay Ramblers 000 100 042-5

Batteries for Logtown: L. Summers, pitcher; P. J. Kerr, catcher. Ramblers: Higgins, pitcher; H. Fayre, catcher.

Bingham Bears 000 102 000-3 Bay Ramblers 000 100 021-4

Batteries for Bingham: S. Schone-maker, pitcher; G. Price, catcher. Ramblers: A. Smith, pitcher; L. Luc, catcher.

Over in the National league five teams managed to get more than half of their contests in the right column. The Cardinals, league leaders, gained in standing by taking 12 out of 17, Chicago 10 out of 17, Cincinnati 9 out of 16, New York 9 out of 15, Boston 8 out of 16 and then you come to the losers, Brooklyn with 4 out of 16, Pittsburgh with 4 out of 16, and Philadelphia with only 3 out of 14.

Eddie Morgan, Cleveland first baseman, who couldn't decide to play ball until the season opened, took the batting lead last week. Bill Terry, Giant star, headed the National column. The firm of Grove and Earnshaw last week boasted 11 victories and 2 defeats, each, which is what most managers would call a burling Washington shows two likely winners, Washington's Fischer and Burke, with 7 and 6 victories to a lone defeat for each. Chuck Klein, only player to make 200 bases in two years in succession, if off to a good start for his third year.

Tommy Armour is back from England where he won the British Open. With his eye set on the National Open at Inverness, which will begin at Toledo on July 22, Armstrong, fielding certain, even with Bobby Jones on the sidelines. The British Ryder cup team and a quartet from the Argentine will participate. However, there were a few upsets in the sectional qualifying rounds. Cyril Walker and Willie McFarlane lost out. Harrison Johnson, Roland Mackenzie and Bobby Jones, who had been in the British open, and T. Philip Perkins, British amateur, will be in at the start.

The Cleveland Boxing Commission will place the Stribling-Schelling fight in the hands of the referees, with two judges having nothing to do but ballot on the decision. No foul rules will be established, and a boxing match will be examined, and if injured too bad to continue, it will be ruled a "no fight." If after a rest, physicians say he can continue and the boxer refuses, the award of a technical knockout will go to the adversary.

When it comes to a track meet you might as well award the laurels to the Trojans of the University of California. They recently won the National Collegiate track and field championship, amassing a record-breaking total of 77 1-7 points against the 31 1-7 points of their nearest rival, Ohio State. Illinois was third with 28, Iowa fourth with 26 1-7 and Indiana fifth with 26. The Trojans, who won the championship last year, also won in 11 of the 15 events and four championships and tied for another.

WAVELAND SENTINELS OPENED SECOND HALF WITH 10-3 VICTORY

Waveland Sentinels opened the second half of the Gulf Coast Baseball League with a 10-3 victory over the Gulfport Tarpons at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon. The Sentinels played wonderful ball being the superb pitching of "Bob" London their speed ball artist, who struck out thirteen men. They showed three Tarnon pitchers with sixteen hits, several for extra bases.

"Slick" Ball newly acquired outfielder made his debut for Waveland by securing three safeties out of five trips to the plate. Fred Bourgeois also secured three singles out of five trips up. "Mule" Hays first baseman led the long distance slugging with a double and a triple.

The Waveland Sentinels open their home schedule for the second half with the Tarpons at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon. The Sentinels have made several changes in their lineup and seem to have gathered a winning combination now. A large crowd of fans are expected to attend the opening game for the home team. The game will be called at 2 P. M.

Death of Well Known Citizen of Hancock

Well-known resident of Hancock county passed away at his home Friday night, June 19, aged 55 years. Captain Gutierrez had been well for some time and even attended to his duties as captain of the fire department.

He was married and survived by one brother Judge Frank Gutierrez of Bay St. Louis and one sister, Mrs. Paul T. Ashton, residing in New Orleans.

Personally well-known he was prominently identified with the calling of boat pilot. He numbered his friends among the "River" section along the Coast and in New Orleans and the news of his passing away will be received with general sorrow.

Capt. Gutierrez was a member of Diamond Lodge No. 393, of Logtown and funeral services were held under Masonic auspices.

Whereas on the 19th day of September, 1928, Walter Lang and Magie Lang, executed and delivered unto T. W. ## VISITOR TO GULF COAST OFFERS CRITICISM OF CONSTRUCTIVE BENEFIT

L. K. Morris, of New York and Detroit Gives Echo Correspondent Interview Regarding Things We Have And What We Should Do—What We Are Failing To Do—Worthwhile Suggestions From Competent Observer.

By W. D. ROBINSON

Constructive criticism often helps cities, towns and communities as well as individuals. It sometimes causes those who are criticized to see things in a different light. They sit up and take notice.

When a visitor, in friendly criticism, calls attention to neglected opportunities for development and for people to make money, it is time for everybody concerned to sit up and take notice. Such a visitor spent some time on the coast recently. And what he said was very interesting.

The visitor was L. K. Morris, of Detroit and New York, who is heavily interested in food producing industries in the North. He was on one of his tours of the country. He spends considerable time traveling every year.

"What impresses me most," Mr. Morris said, "is the neglected opportunities of the Mississippi Coast. It is time for the coast people to wake up and take advantage of what nature has given them."

"First, take the soil and climate of the Coast. Conditions exist here whereby from three to six crops can be produced on the same soil in a year."

"What do we find? The cities and towns of the coast are importing vegetables, fruits and food products from other sections that can and should be produced at home. I have seen vegetables on sale in coast towns that were shipped here from Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Texas. All of these products could have been grown here. That is a wrong situation. There is no excuse for it except neglect to take advantage of opportunity."

"To make my criticism more pointed I will describe what I saw on my visit to Colquitt county, in South Georgia, this spring, and draw a comparison therefrom. Moultrie is the county seat of Colquitt, and it is a live, hustling little city, with a population of 3500 or 4000. The county has a population of 30,659 and an area of 529 square miles."

"Colquitt county's remarkable success is due to diversified farming and co-operation between the business interests and farmers. That is the secret of it."

"Immediately following the close of the world war, when the cotton market collapsed, farmers found themselves in a pickle. They were broke and could not get money to operate their farms."

"About that time the business interests of Moultrie, following the advice of some of the leading citizens, stepped forward. They arranged with the banks to finance the farmers if the farmers would sign an agreement for a program of diversified farming. A general mass meeting was held. Terms were placed in writing and adopted unanimously."

"Then things commenced to happen. Each farmer planted a specified number of acres in food and forage crops, and cotton production was cut to small amount. Each farmer, in addition, was to maintain from three to ten milk cows, two to ten brood sows and at least 50 pure-bred hens."

"Carrying out their part, the Moultrie business interests undertook to provide a market every day in the year for all farm products in Colquitt county at fair prices. This has been done with great success."

"During the past year, I was informed in Moultrie, $21,000,000 worth of farm products were sold in Colquitt county. The business interests found markets for everything produced in the county. The live stock sold to the local packing plant at Moultrie alone brought $2,660,000."

"Farmers of Colquitt county would not have known there was a business depression in 1930, a Moultrie banker told me if they had not read it in the newspapers. The banker said the mills and factories are running full time, there is no unemployment, all have plenty to eat and money in the banks."

"Colquitt county's fame has spread. Over 500 applications have been received by one realty firm at Moultrie to buy farms, but there are no farms for sale. Last fall Moultrie invited people from far and near to come to a harvest festival and see how it was done. The exhibits were wonderful."

"Now compare this with conditions today on the Mississippi Coast. What has been accomplished in Colquitt county, Georgia, can be done on a bigger scale on the Mississippi Coast."

"What should be done? The answer is plain. The first thing to be done on this Coast is for the business interests to organize through their Chamber of Commerce or otherwise. Then get the farmers to form co-operative organizations. That done, agree upon a plan of diversified crops, milk production, hog raising and poultry and egg production. Then find markets for all products. First supplying home markets so as to keep money at home. See that everything produced on the farm is marketed at a fair price. Get local businessmen to demand home grown products."

"The effect of this would make the coast prosperous. That would attract more people and the population would increase rapidly. The coast would get more hotels and more factories, creating new payrolls. Four hundred million dollars is a lot of money, but it is not dependable."

"To make the coast permanently prosperous it is necessary to first develop the agricultural resources by a plan of diversified crops, milk production, hog raising and poultry and egg production. Then find markets for all products. First supplying home markets so as to keep money at home. See that everything produced on the farm is marketed at a fair price. Get local businessmen to demand home grown products."

PRESENT CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATE IS QUITE POPULAR

Incident During Last Session Of Mississippi Legislature Tends To Prove This.

During the last session of the Mississippi Legislature, Francis Harmon, editor-publisher of Hattiesburg Daily American, conducted a column of daily comment, headed "Listening in on the Legislature."

Regarding Representative John Lumpkin, of Pearl River, present candidate for senatorial honors from this the Fortieth District, which includes Hancock county, he carried the following one lay in this particular column, which we reproduce as a tribute to the popularity of the representative and now senatorial candidate.

Under the sub-head of "Lumpkin Makes Hit," Harmon said: Representative John Lumpkin of Pearl River county made his first speech of the session Thursday. It was short, snappy and to the point. The appropriation for the Poplarville Experiment Station was up for consideration and the hefty member from Pearl River rose to tell his colleagues of the wonderful work Mr. Petris and his associates are accomplishing. The best tribute to Lumpkin's speech is the fact that his bill passed.

However, the boys had some fun at his expense just the same. While John was "orating," some good friends passed the word around for everybody to press the "red" or "Nay" button on the electric voting machine. As John sat down and wiped his forehead, the bell rang for the vote and "Nays" flamed across the voting board in four all-most solid lines of red lights. For a second Lumpkin was flabbergasted. Then the laughter commenced and the lights began to switch from "No" to "Yes"—that is from "Red" to "Green" and when the vote was tabulated, all but five of Lumpkin's fellow workers had given him a vote of affectionate confidence.

Everybody likes John Lumpkin. He was elected from the governor's county and of course votes with the governor's other friends who are in a decided minority in the House. But Representative Lumpkin has sense enough to give his colleagues credit for entertaining an honest difference of opinion. He votes one way and a friend across the aisle votes the other and yet they remain friends. Where as the governor's "minute men" who are eternally "popping off" take themselves so seriously that it grows painful to all their associates.

Pearl River county did a good job in sending John Lumpkin to Jackson. He represents the best and finest side of the county's educational and political life. Has the respect of everyone and has the satisfaction of knowing that his tactics have gotten him farther than some others who are always hurling verbal bricks.

CAN ORDER THEIR VOTES BY MAIL ORDER ROUTE

There are three printing offices in Copiah county, yet none of the literature being distributed by candidates for county office, have earmarks of mail-order printing houses. To be elected these candidates will need to order some votes from the mail order print shops. Any candidate who patronizes mail-order houses in preference to home institutions, is not worthy of the support of the people.—Crystal Springs Meteor.

Consider your Adam's Apple!!* Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

When you visit your physician for your periodic health examination, one of the very first things he asks you to do is to open your mouth wide, and to say "Ah." He is examining the delicate lining of your throat. "Ah!" There is not a man or woman who could even make this simple sound, if in the throat there were no Adam's Apple. For your Adam's Apple is your larynx—the voice box containing your vocal chords. And what a delicate piece of Nature's handiwork the Adam's Apple is. A slight cold—even a tiny particle lodged in the throat—and our voice often grows husky. In acute cases, we may even lose our voice for several days. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants—Reach for a LUCKY instead—remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating. LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

A prominent politician and statesman favors a three-sentence platform for his party. Such a document will be welcomed by anyone who is eager to know what it is all about. The Declaration of Independence is a reversed instrument, yet few could give its substance off hand. All remember, however, that Patrick Henry said "Give me liberty or give me death."

Of all material objects used by man, the violin occupies a peculiar position. It has resisted every effort in the way of improvement, since 300,000,000 years ago. A scientist who is investigating Stradivarius fiddles, thinks that in the end he may have to report that the infinite care and patience bestowed by the master instrument-maker on every violin he produced, is the only accountable reason for the superiority of his work. Scientific inquiry has not been wasted, if it has brought out the fact that painstaking toil is not without its value.

Questions Authority of Court to Hear His Case on Grounds of Non-Residence

Booker A. Weir, 41-year-old World War veteran, contested the jurisdiction of Chancellor D. M. Russell in a hearing at Gulfport this week to commit him to an institution for treatment for an alleged narcotic addiction in proceedings instituted by his father, W. J. Weir, of Bay St. Louis, says a press telegram from that place. Weir a few days ago voluntarily went to the Harrison county jail because of his admitted desire for drugs. Weir questioned authority of the court to hear his case on the grounds that he was a resident of Texas and that he came to Gulfport only four months ago to visit his mother who was ill. Chancellor Russell held that he had jurisdiction over Weir and reset the case for a hearing.

In the warfare now going on in China, a multitude of unarmed farmers were marched ahead of one of the combatant forces to stop the bullets, and ten thousand were slain. Disregarding the inhumanity of the proceeding, it was a tactical move of a very low order. The officer who thought of it has about the skill of a corporal compared with the old Generalissimo.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

Hot days when the appetite fails try some of the appetizers which are easy to prepare and taste as good as they look. These can be served at the beginning of a meal or between the main course and that which follows it. Garnishings for this type of dish may be thin slices of lemon, strip of pimiento, beets cut in cubes, pickles and olives. Anything that appeals to the appetite and has a pleasing color and flavor. Be sure to have plenty of seasoning, left-overs may be used to advantage.

Grilled Sardines.

Cut bread in thin oblongs. Place a sardine split thru the center on each side, the split side up. Sprinkle with paprika, brown under broiler. Garnish with slice of lemon and sprig of parsley.

Shrimp Canape.

Cut 6 slices of bread (graham, white or whole wheat) in pretty shapes and brown in fat. Mix 1-2 cup shrimps with 2 tablespoons tomato catsup, 2 table spoons vinegar and 1 tablespoon paprika. Spread on bread, sprinkled with American cheese and brown under flame. Serve hot.

Tongue Canape

Toast 6 slices of bread. Butter and cover with 1-2 cup potted or deviled tongue, moistened with 2 table spoons of vinegar. Garnish with chopped relish and parsley or stuffed olives in center.

Cheese Appetizer.

Cut 6 slices of bread, 1/4 inch thick. Spread 3 slices with 1 tablespoon prepared mustard covered with 1 cup grated cheese and season with salt and paprika. Cover with slices of bread. Toast in oven until both sides are brown. Cut in triangles, garnish with spiced gherkins.

Caviar.

Caviar in some form is always a very correct appetizer to serve at a formal dinner. Caviar is expensive but there is a less costly variety, the roe of salmon. Cut thin slices of Spanish onion, spread it with Caviar, sprinkle with lemon juice and top the center with a half of stuffed olive. Serve with lettuce.

Stuffed Celery

Short lengths of celery one to two inches cut from the hollowed part of the stalk filled with soft cheese highly flavored, or with tomato paste.

SELLERS SCHOOL GETS SECOND PLACE IN DAIRY TEST WORK

Misses First Place by Six-Tenth of One Per Cent—Class Stands Well.

Sellers school represented Hancock county in the dairy and poultry test work by the vocational school students at Hill Crest Dairy Farm, at Carriere, over the line of Pearl River-Hancock counties, on Wednesday of last week, June 17.

Work was for South Mississippi and represented by well-known schools in Pearl River and adjacent territory. There were 13 schools represented and 62 boys in attendance at Hill Crest Dairy Farm, near Carriere.

These vocational students have been studying agricultural farm subjects during the past session and reached a high point of efficiency. On last Wednesday they were taken to the actual work of judging, each school classed according to the marks received. It will be noted that students of Sellers School, Hancock county, in dairy judging came out second, Henley Field School winning first place by a difference of 6-10th of one point.
